This period does not begin until the request is actually received by the component within the DOJ that maintains the records sought, or ten business days after the request is received in this office, whichever is earlier.

The DOJ must verify the identity of the person who is the subject of the records being requested. This verification is necessary to protect the individual's privacy and is required by Title 28, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 16.41(d)(2). Please send the enclosed Certification of Identity, Form DOJ-361, with a request for records directly to the component(s) you have selected at the address(es) shown on the enclosed List of Department of Justice Components, Functions and Records Maintained. REQUEST FOR DOCUMENTS UNDER FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT 5 U.S 552

Dear sir/mdm,

Under signed attorney Orly Taitz submitted a Quo Warranto complaint to the Attorney General of the United States Eric Holder which was received by the Attorney General twice on 03.17.2009 and on 03.27.2009. After over four years of waiting for a response, under signed attorney never received any response from the Attorney General Holder.

Attorney Taitz is requesting under Freedom of Information Act FOIA 5 US 552 any and all documents generated in response to her Quo Warranto complaint and any evidence of these documents ever being mailed to her.

This is a matter of national importance, aforementioned Quo Warranto provided information and evidence that Barack Hussein Obama does not poses a valid Social Security number, that the number he is using was never assigned to him and that a number of his identification papers represent fabricated documents. In light of this evidence attorney Taitz is requesting her FOIA request to be processed expeditiously.

Respectfully,

Dr. Orly Taitz ESQ

ATTACHMENT B

Listing and Descriptions of Department of Justice Components, FOIA Requester Service Centers and FOIA Public Liaisons, Descriptions of Information Routinely Made Publicly Available, and Multi-track Processing Information

This attachment lists the subdivisions or "components" of the Department of Justice, with a brief description of their functions. Whenever a component requires special information to respond to a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request, this is noted immediately below the listing. If a component employs multi-track processing of FOIA requests, the listing contains a description of its multi-track processing system. Also following each component listing is a general description of the types of information that the component makes publicly available without requiring that a formal FOIA request be made.

Prior to making a FOIA request you are encouraged to review the Department's website as well as each component's website as a great deal of information is made available online. Please note that several components have noted below that they continue to maintain a physical reading room which you can visit to review certain records of that component. Physical reading rooms are being phased out in favor of online posting of each component's records. For a component that still has a physical reading room for older records, if it would be difficult for you to visit the reading room, you should consider contacting the component's FOIA Public Liaison to see if there is another way to receive a document that you seek (contact information for each component's FOIA Public Liaison is listed below).

To make a FOIA request you are encouraged to write directly to the addresses provided below in order to speed up the handling of your request. However, if you are unable to identify the Department component most likely to have the records you seek, you may send your request to the FOIA/PA Mail Referral Unit, Justice Management Division, U.S. Department of Justice, Room 115, LOC Building, Washington, D.C. 20530-0001, which will then forward your request to the components it believes are most likely to have the requested records. (See the Justice Management Division's listing in this attachment for its special FOIA Requester Service Center/FOIA Public Liaison for this request-forwarding function.) In either case, please mark the envelope "Freedom of Information Act Request." A large number of components now accept electronically submitted requests. Where a component accepts electronically submitted requests, this is specifically noted in that component's listing.
